

SENATOR HUEY P. LONG'S CONDITION GRAVE

CITY OFFICIALS WOULD SALVAGE P. W. A. PROJECTS

HALF BILLION WORTH KILLED BY H. HOPKINS

Administrator Claims Cost Of Programs Too High

By Stanley P. Richardson
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—State, county and municipal officials sought today to salvage the public works projects involving expenditure of nearly half a billion dollars in 47 states.

Working against time, they filed or prepared to file reworked applications for many of the 900 projects turned down by Harry L. Hopkins, works program administrator, in the hope of obtaining reconsideration. Although the number of projects rejected was disclosed, the individual proposals involved were not made public for all states.

Only three days remain before the deadline set by President Roosevelt for filing of applications. The rejected proposals called for expenditure of $322,274,725 in work relief funds, and more than half as much more in local funds.

In most instances, Hopkins insisted that the cost of the projects on a many-year employment basis was too high. Those rejected represented nearly half of 3,968 PWA applications approved by Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator, and submitted to Hopkins up to September 6.

Of that date, Hopkins had only approved 300 PWA proposals calling for expenditure of about $135,000,000 in work relief funds. Congress had earmarked $200,000,000 of the $4,580,000,000 work relief appropriation for public works loans or grants.

Officials of neither agency would comment but observers speculated on what effect the Hopkins rejection of the Ickes-approved proposals might have on the apparently widening breach between these two members of the New Deal administration.

Ickes is known to be disappointed because of the mounting number of WPA vetoes his projects have encountered but there was no information as to whether he contemplated trying to do anything about it.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL TO PICK UP LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The Illinois Central Railroad today announced that it would continue to pick up livestock on the farms in its territory and haul it free of charge to the nearest loading station for shipment over the railroad to market.

The service, started last December as an experiment, will be extended to include farmers residing north of Freeport, Ill., on the Madison and Dodgeville, Wis., line officials of the railroad said.

Extension in the service includes Rockville, Hollandale, Argyle, Morris, Scotts Mills, Winslow, and other points. Other railroads, including the Great Western, North Western, Milwaukee and the Burlington, offer the service from eastern Iowa and Illinois points to the Chicago market.

FDR MAY ATTEND LEGION MEETING IN ST. LOUIS, MO.

May Discuss Payment Of Cash Bonus To Veterans

By Francis M. Stephenson,
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 9.—(AP)—President Roosevelt seriously considered tonight a stop at the American Legion convention in St. Louis late this month on his travel to the Pacific coast in response to an invitation presented to him here today.

The occasion offers opportunity for a discussion by the president of thoughts on the recurring issue for cash payment of the bonus insurance certificates.

Frank Beltramo, national commander of the Legion, Colonel Henry Monroe Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce, and a member of the Legion executive committee, presented the invitation.

Informed today of the shooting of Senator Long, of Louisiana, Mr. Roosevelt issued a statement of regret.

It was learned also that the President and Mrs. Roosevelt sent a personal telegram to Mrs. Long. The Louisiana senator has been a severe critic of the president.

Governor Lehman of New York called at the home of the president here for luncheon to "pay my respects" and to discuss co-ordination of federal and state work relief programs.

Governor Lehman also discussed plans for the president's visit next Saturday to Lake Placid for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the state conservation department for dedication of the new highway on Whiteface Mountain, nearby.

Declare Fever Treatments Are Aiding Insane

72 Percent Of Elgin Hospi- tal Patients Are Showing Improvements

Kansas City, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Dr. Ralph H. Kuhns of Chicago today told the fourteenth annual American Congress of Physical Therapy that electrical fevering to improve or cure mental and nervous patients is winning success.

Dr. Kuhns, instructor in neurophysiology in the College of Medicine at the University of Illinois, told of results at the State hospital at Elgin, Ill., where he has done much staff work.

"Of 306 cases at the Elgin hospital given fever treatments in electrical cabinets or blankets," he said, "72 per cent showed improvement, 10 per cent remained stationary in condition, 7 per cent deteriorated and 11 per cent died. The death per cent was considerably less than from the malerial treatment. Of the 72 per cent who improved, 30 per cent were discharged from the hospital and 14 per cent were paroled."

Dr. Kuhns explained the nerve disease was literally heated out of the patient's system by subjecting him to a temperature of 105 or 106 for as long as 2-hour periods.

"One-half of all the taxes collected in Illinois," Dr. Kuhns said, "go to maintain the 50,000 persons, including employees as well as patients, in the nerve and mental ailments hospitals in the state."

In telegram to C. M. Osborn, acting state director of the PWA, Horatio B. Hackett, assistant National Administrator, said 63 of the projects were rejected because of "high cost per man-year," four because of "insufficient labor on relief rolls," and the others for miscellaneous reasons.

Rejections sent to Chicago were identified only by docket numbers, and PWA officials said they will be unable to identify the nature and location of the projects until tomorrow.

74 Illinois PWA Projects Voided

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Seventy-four Illinois PWA projects, calling for a total federal contribution of $36,339,227, were recommended for disapproval by the National Works Progress Administration today.

In telegram to C. M. Osborn, acting state director of the PWA, Horatio B. Hackett, assistant National Administrator, said 63 of the projects were rejected because of "high cost per man-year," four because of "insufficient labor on relief rolls," and the others for miscellaneous reasons.

Rejections sent to Chicago were identified only by docket numbers, and PWA officials said they will be unable to identify the nature and location of the projects until tomorrow.

SOL IS PUZZLED

New York, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Sol J. Lupoff, a passenger on the liner Dixie which stranded on a reef off the coast of Florida, came back with a mingled feeling about women. What puzzled Mr. Lupoff was that the women were scared as they were awkward.

ETHIOPIAN WAR CRISIS BRINGS LEAGUE WARNING

Italian Spokesman Re- fuses To Make Promises

By Joseph E. Sharkey,
Associated Press Staff Writer.
Geneva, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The League of Nations Assembly 16th session evoked warnings today of the dangerous nature of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, and an assertion by an Italian spokesman that his nation would refrain from any assurances that it would do nothing to complicate the crisis.

So acute did the crisis become that the opinion prevailed in many circles tonight that it could be settled only on a realistic basis. A league spokesman said an effort would be made to find a solution bridging league idealism and cold practicality represented by Italy's needs for economic expansion.

Behind Italy's demand for more colonial rights the lurked in many minds the specter that soon Germany—deprived of all its colonies—would proclaim its imperious needs for territory outside Europe.

A German spokesman said Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler doubtless would raise this issue before Germany judicially departs from the league October 14.

An Italian spokesman explained that Italy has already announced it must maintain complete liberty of action concerning Ethiopia and that it does not wish to make any promises which circumstances might make it impossible to keep.

The opinion of delegates from 54 states seemed to be that something must be done urgently to solve world economic problems, because their non-settlement led to political crises.

The Italo-Ethiopian conflict was generally deemed a crisis growing out of economic unrest and indifference among the Italian people.

Various resolutions were in the air, one demanding stabilization of money and another great accessibility of nations to raw materials and foodstuffs.

Ethiopia Sees An Early Offensive By Italians; More Men Sent To Front

By James A. Mills
Addis Ababa, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The Ethiopian government countered Italian troop movements—which it said indicated an early offensive against Ethiopia—by dispatching more men and more munitions to the northern front today.

An official government communiqué said: "Telegrams from the northern frontier show that the Italians are making important troop movements on the Ethiopian and Eritrean frontier, indicating an early offensive against Ethiopia."

Thirty American trucks, laden with ammunition and other supplies, started immediately to the north. The news of apparent imminence of war stimulated recruiting.

Heavy rain fell spasmodically over the plateau about this high-set capital, however, with the tropical rainy season which would bog down military operations not due to let up until the end of this month.

The Italian minister, Luigi Vinciguiglietti, told the Associated Press, "our troop movements do not mean an attack but are merely routine replacements in conformity with the scheme for training recruits."

The government's communiqué was coupled with the arrival of two Italian consuls from the interior, following Vinciguiglietti's action in recalling all consuls to Addis Ababa, and dissipated earlier optimistic feelings that peace might be retained.

Vinciguiglietti dispatched five tons of furnishings from the Italian delegation by special freight car. He also conferred with the French minister with a view to being belated to arrange for France to take over Italian interests in Ethiopia in the event of war.

GREEK CABINET MEETING QUILTS AFTER BATTLE

Italian Spokesman Re- fuses To Make Promises

London, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A fierce clash in Athens between Republican officers and monarchist guards broke out at midnight, the Reuters (British) News Agency reported tonight, at the entrance to the building where cabinet members were holding a session.

Angiactos, leader of the anti-monarchist officers, was wounded by a bayonet thrust in the jaw. His brother, a Republican deputy, was wounded by a bullet in the hand.

Premier Panayotis Tsaldaris previously had been quoted in another Reuters dispatch as announcing that an official communiqué in favor of restoration of the monarchy would be issued after the cabinet meeting.

The announcement, the dispatch reported, was made to a deputation of 25 Royalists.

The cabinet meeting was immediately adjourned after the melee, and the situation was described as tense.

The disturbance occurred when Minister of War Kondylis ordered the arrest of Gen. Panastatos, and with a guard attempted to enforce the order on the threshold of the cabinet chamber.

Marble walls and floors of the new parliament building were splattered with blood.

The brothers were immediately carried to a hospital and left there under guard, the dispatch reported.

DAMAGE SCHOOL ROOMS

Jolic, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Janitor Mark Ingalls of Washington School today suspected that some students weren't exactly pleased when the summer vacation ended.

Opening the building today, he found: glue on a piano; sand on the floors; ink splattered on the walls; desks overturned. The vandals entered through a window.

School opened last Wednesday.

FEDERATION OF LABOR OPPOSED TO RACKETEERS

Legislative Program Is Outlined At Con- vention

Belleville, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Affirmation of the Illinois Federation of Labor's opposition to "racketeers and racketeering" was made today by its executive board in a report to the annual convention.

The report outlined a six-point legislative program and vigorously criticized the Illinois Workers' Alliance and other such groups as "will-o-wisp" organizations constituting "a growing menace to the trade union movement."

"A straight-forward declaration of previous convention against racketeers and racketeering should be given emphatic reaffirmation," the report said, "so that all who are interested will understand organized labor in Illinois x x x is unalterably opposed to every form and phase of racketeering, and especially opposed to the misuse of the name of union labor by unscrupulous persons, whether within or without the labor movement."

The report charged that the Illinois Workers' Alliance, councils of unemployed persons, and similar groups "serve as a medium for agitators who have no real place in the labor movement."

Care in invoking the Wagner labor relations act was suggested in the report, which asserted that it is the "declared purpose of various employment interests to challenge its constitutionality." It proposed that "first class cases" only should be presented under provisions of the new legislation.

Anthony Postorino, walking out of Sing-Sing's death house after 28 months of confinement and a commutation of his sentence to life imprisonment, said: "I feel as though I was buried alive and am coming back from the grave."

9 Billion Dollar Tax Is Placed On Poor Borah Says

Congress Imposes Levy Of Only $250,000,000 On Rich He Declares

Boise, Ida., Sept. 9.—(AP)—United States Senator William E. Borah declared tonight that while the recent session of congress was imposing a tax of $250,000,000 on the rich, it was enacting appropriation measures that will require "the poor people" to pay $9,750,000,000 in taxes.

The veteran Idaho Republican addressed 250 physicians at the Idaho State Medical Association's 43rd annual banquet.

"There is no way to reduce taxes except to reduce the cost of government," said the senator who centered his speech in an attack on over-centralization of government.

"The cost of government is outstripping the increase of population and the increase of national wealth by about five to one."

Railroad Agent Shot And Killed

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Arlo J. Smith, 30, Terminal Railroad Association special agent accidentally slain today by an Illinois Central railroad agent as all were seeking freight car thieves, had been assigned to the job by his father.

The father, John Smith, is chief special agent. Of his son's death he said: "It was an accident. Such things happen in the line of duty. It's part of the job."

Henry Mabry was the agent who shot Smith when the latter turned his flashlight in Mabry's direction. Dan Morgan, in charge of the Illinois Central squad, said Mabry thought Smith was a robber and fired in the direction of the flashlight.

EXCHANGE HOMES

Chicago, Sept. 9.—(AP)—There's only one story involved in this affair of two weddings. Recently Betty Enning, her brother, Thomas, and their parents moved into a first floor apartment. They met the Capra family who lives in the apartment above them.

Sept. 29 Betty will move up one flight when she becomes the bride of Anthony Capra. Anthony's sister, Rose, will move downstairs the same day as the bride of Thomas Ennarinio, 25 to 35 cents were made.

Crisp Comment in Nation's News By Associated Press

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York, joining city fathers in announcing that the nation's largest city must stop making so much noise:

"Not another foot of elevated track will be constructed in my time, and many miles of it will be torn down. There is no reason why cabarets in residential districts should annoy the neighborhood with what they call music late at night. We'll shut them up."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, editorially opining that a woman some day may be president:

"In all probability some time a woman will be elected president—but she may not, in my opinion, be elected at the present time or in the near future."

FOUR CONVICTS MISSING FROM CHESTER PRISON

3 Life-Term Trustees And Insane Patient Make Escape

Chester, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—A criminally insane hospital patient and three life-term prison trustees with a weakness for whiskey were sought tonight in a widespread hunt by southern Illinois police and penitentiary guards.

The trustees, Howard Bethel, 38, Collinsville; Johnnie Wilderman, 33, Decatur; and Richard Lane, 36—walked away from the southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard, prison officials said, after apparently imbibing too freely of liquor. All were convicted murderers.

Charles P. Zimmerman, 37, Chicago, stole the automobile of a guard to escape from the Illinois security hospital where he was sent July 29, 1933, after pleading insanity as a defense to a robbery charge. No trace was found of him after he was sighted near here an hour after the escape.

Deputy Warden Joseph Montgomery said the missing prison trio, whose failure to report at check-in time led to discovery of their escape, were men of high intelligence with good records.

"We have evidence that liquor has been sold to convicts," he said, "and we have grounds to believe that the three were drinking last night. I believe they were made reckless by the liquor and fled without previous plans."

An empty whisky bottle was found in Lane's room.

Bethel, a berrillion expert, had worked in the prison's finger print bureau for fifteen years and was familiar with the usual procedure in pursuing escaped prisoners. Lane worked in the officers' dormitory and Wilderman was employed in the prison office.

Officers were investigating a report that a trio answering their description attempted to cross the Ohio river at Cairo, Ill., during the day.

PLACED IN JAIL

Marion, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Eddie Garrett, a negro, is in the county jail here today following a sun dial duel with his estranged wife.

Garrett allegedly fired two shots at his wife after she had refused to return to his home. Both shots missed and she returned the fire wounding him in the arm. She then called the police and had him arrested.

HOG PRICES SOAR

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—A price of $12.15 paid here today for choice hogs equalled the practical top for the last six years.

THIRD BLOOD TRANSFUSION ADMINISTERED

Louisiana "Dictator" Holds To Life By Thin Thread

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 10.—(Monday)—(AP)—Senator Huey P. Long, felled by an assassin's bullet, held to life by only a thin thread early today. Friends and high state officials said they had virtually abandoned hope.

Hasily summoning new donors, physicians started a third blood transfusion while it was learned, an oxygen tent had been taken to the senator's hospital room an hour earlier.

"It really looks awful but I still think he'll live," said Lieut. Governor James A. Noe.

As the political empire Long built in Louisiana waited tensely it was reported unofficially at the hospital that the "dictator" of the Bayou and Parish country was rapidly declining.

Ed Ramey, Memphis business man who was Long's boyhood friend, said he was told by the head nurse of the hospital where Long fought for life, that there is "little hope."

Physicians would not comment. A promised bulletin on his condition was not forthcoming.

Already skilled surgeons summoned from all corners of Long's political domain had operated once and effected two blood transfusions, fighting the dread peritonitis that threatened the weakened frame of the man who gave political potency to a "share-the-wealth" program.

Earlier in the night one official bulletin had said Senator Long was "holding his own" but recurring sinking spells brought a feeling of despair to those closest to him.

Noe said the belief Long might live "of course x x x is based purely on my belief and you might say on my heart."

Mrs. Long remained close to the senator's bedside but their three children were taken to a hotel.

The Louisiana Senator, former governor of Louisiana and a powerful political figure nationally in recent months, was shot down by Dr. C. A. Weiss, Jr., a political enemy, in the corridor of the Capitol Sunday night. Senator Long's bodyguards killed Weiss, pouring more than 30 bullets into his body.

The early bulletin, issued by Dr. Arthur Vidrine who had operated upon the senator last night, said:

"Senator Long is holding his own tonight. There hasn't been much change in the past 12 hours and we don't expect any developments for a certain period."

An early morning statement from Dr. Vidrine had said the senator's condition was satisfactory and "no important information will be available for about 72 hours."

Before the reported turn for the worse tonight, said to have occurred about 7 p. m. (Central Standard Time), another of the attending physicians, Dr. William Cook, said "I don't believe he is any worse than he was this morning."

Mrs. Long and her daughter, Rose, remained with the senator until a late hour. State officials also visited his room at intervals.

More police were concentrated in and around the hospital for the night watch and the only road leading to it was closed to traffic. Pedestrians were not allowed to approach the building without permission.

Performing Bear Attacks Trainer at St. Louis Zoo

St. Louis, Sept. 9.—(AP)—"Tootsie," a performing bear at the St. Louis zoo attacked Mike Kostial, trainer, today. The bear bit Kostial in the right arm, inflicting a gash requiring eight stitches to close.

George P. Vierheller, zoo superintendent, said he believed a departure from the usual routine following the afternoon act caused the bear to attack his trainer. He explained the trainer was leading the bear to a patch of sunlight for a picture requested by a visitor instead of taking the bear to its feeding place.

Kostial's exhibitions will be cancelled for several days while he recovers, Vierheller said.

DIES FROM INJURIES

Breese, Ill., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Mortimer E. Ruston, East St. Louis, died tonight from injuries received today in an automobile collision near here. She suffered a brain concussion and head injuries.

The Russian Incident

The reaction of the government to the reply of Russia to the protest on account of Communist propaganda in this county, has been practically nil. There should have been determined action, and because there was none, the American people are thinking the whole thing must have been some kind of political gesture.

It is reported that statements made at the Moscow meeting of the Third Internationale were responsible for protest. The American communists are said to have declared that their party should support the New Deal in 1936, as the election of a more conservative government might slow up the progress of communism in this country.

This is what is believed to have caused Uncle Sam to make the protest to Russia. It was a vigorous enough protest, demanding that communist propaganda be stopped, because it was in violation of the recognition treaty with Russia.

The answer of Russia was to the effect that anti-Russian propaganda was also in vogue in America, and it was as fair for one as for the other. Thus far Uncle Sam has said nothing in reply, tho the Russian answer had enough holes in it to show up its weakness.

To accuse Americans of anti-Russian propaganda is all very well, but the Russians forgot that the campaign against their form of government is not being waged on their own soil. Should Americans go to Russia as communists have come to the United States, and start a campaign against the soviet, things would happen to them in a hurry.

They would find themselves inside a Russian prison, exiled to a chilly island in the North Sea, working in a Siberian mine, or facing a firing squad. The soviet would not stand for the sort of sabotage and undermining from foreign propagandists that communists are allowed to get away with in this country. In fact no European government would for a moment tolerate hostile propaganda from a foreign source.

Yet our government does nothing much to stem the tide of communism, but its officials take time off to declare that a large group of people want to change the Constitution. Writers who hold government jobs are engaged in furthering radical policies thru magazine articles. It remains for the patriotic press to carry on the campaign against communism practically single-handed.

Political Violence

The shooting of Senator Huey P. Long, picturesque Louisiana dictator, and the instant killing of his assailant under the fire of his bodyguards, have written some bloody paragraphs into our political history. The incident is regrettable, and without excuse in a civilized nation. Sad to say, it is not uncommon in our land, as it is the second such outrage within the week, and there have been others.

The brutal murder of the prosecutor in Harlan, Ky., was the other instance. Somebody put a charge of dynamite in his car and connected it with the starter. Election killings, blackjack control of precincts, beating of citizens who want to cast honest ballots, all are at various times a part of the workings in our "great and glorious" democracy.

All of which goes to prove that we are only just around the corner from government by force and are always ready at the slightest provocation to revert to the idea that might makes right. The fact that Huey Long had to be guarded proves he was carrying on in Louisiana in a high-handed way. That he got shot is evidence that somebody resented it. That his guards killed the assailant means only the second round in a political feud and the holding of a trial before the corner instead of a jury.

Bootlegging Food

kicked the entire system of prohibition into the discard, the chief argument against it being that it encouraged bootlegging and made snoopers out of government officers. But no sooner is one form of bootlegging set aside, than the AAA amendments passed by the last Congress establish another.

This time the country is to experience the strange phenomena of having food bootlegged. Heretofore food may have been high in price, but its sale in any quantity has always been legal, and the citizen seeking the necessities of life did not have to concern himself with a point of law in purchasing a peck of potatoes. He never dreamed that the purchase of something to satisfy the hunger of his children might make him a law violator.

But he is now to face that fact when he buys potatoes. The AAA has turned the enforcement of the new potato control act over to the Department of Internal Revenue. That act prohibits the sale of potatoes above a certain quota without the payment of a tax; it also puts a penalty on the buyer of potatoes on which no tax has been paid.

The law is designed to raise the price of potatoes by sheer force, without regard to the economic law of supply and demand. The consumer who is not fortunate enough to own and operate a potato patch can pay the bill, do without or buy bootleg potatoes and assume the position of a common criminal. Maybe we should be thankful that the humble citizen has some choice.

Better Brains Than Beauty

There seems to be something about running a school that leads men to want to try out freak ideas. The latest stunt of this kind comes from Rockford, Ill., where a school superintendent is quoted as having ruled that applicants for jobs as school-ma'ams henceforth must be beautiful as well as smart.

To be sure, there is something to be said for the idea. After all, the pupils have to look at teacher, more or less, all day long, week after week, month after month; if she be properly decorative, the monotony is doubtless agreeably lessened.

But when you have said that, you have said it all. School children are too smart to judge by externals. The best-loved schoolma'am of this writer's youth was a veritable battle-axe upon whose countenance no admirer of beauty would have looked twice; but she happened to be a first-rate teacher, and her pupils appreciated the fact and profited by it.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

F. R. Must Tell Nation Why Millions Remain Jobless . . . Speeding Up Productivity, New Inventions Form Gist of Answer . . . Little Hope for Huge Army's Employment.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—Some day, perhaps before election, President Roosevelt will have to admit to the country that business activity has returned to normal, but that there are still six to eight million unemployed.

He will have to explain that the efficiency of private industry, expressing itself in a saving of labor costs, has largely brought about that condition. And doubtless add that until industry can think up some way of absorbing those millions, it will have to pay for their subsistence thru taxes.

This problem—call it technological unemployment or the increased productivity per man per hour, which gained enormously during the depression—is one of the biggest stories in the country. The highest officials often discuss it privately, though only an occasional labor leader talks of it publicly.

Everybody knows that Roosevelt must eventually meet the issue with something more than an optimistic assumption that improving business conditions will absorb the surplus of labor.

The most scientific chart of unemployment yet devised by the government (it's kept secret for the time being) indicates that 800,000 more persons were unemployed in June, 1935, than in June, 1934. True, this counts in some 300,000 or "new population available for employment" and about as many more displaced from road building and other public works, but—

In that same period, the Federal Reserve index of manufacturing production rose from 83 to 86, which you might well suppose would have meant re-employment of several hundred thousand men. Remember that this was in the NRA period, before codes were canceled and employers began to increase hours.

Thousands Being Displaced
The answer is that workers, at an ever-accelerating rate, are being displaced by better management, elimination of the least efficient plants and equipment—and the least efficient labor—pressure through sweatshop, street-out and speedup methods, new machinery and new inventions.

This goes on in agriculture, mining, transportation and other fields, as well as in the factories.

No one knows the relative importance of those causative factors. But the best available studies show that in the 10 years ended in 1929, the average worker's production increased 45 per cent.

Subsequent studies indicate the output per man hour rose 24 to 28 per cent in 1929-32 and about 12 per cent for 1932-34, meaning at least a 33 per cent gain in the depression period.

Dr. Isador Lubin is now in an official position as commissioner of labor statistics and isn't talking publicly about the matter any more. But in 1932 he told a Senate committee that even if business reached its 1929 level, there would still be at least 5,000,000 unemployed.

Inventions Kill Jobs

Productivity has since increased and nobody is anticipating any early arrival at the 1929 industrial production index figure, which was 119 as against the recent 86.

From every front come reports of new inventions certain to displace human labor. Washington this fall will watch closely the performance of the mechanical cotton picker, ballyhooed as able to pick 1,000 pounds an hour as against man's 10 pounds, a potential instrument of unemployment for hundreds of thousands.

Everyone is talking of pre-fabricated houses—and some warn of what it will do to building trades workers. New single-unit trains threaten the jobs of shompen, switchmen, brakemen, and firemen. High-line logging operations threaten the jobs of thousands of northwest lumbermen.

Output Per Man Grows

NRA halted the process while through spreading work by shortening hours and by protecting obsolete plants. But now the chains are off.

And even in the NRA period (1933-35), government figures show output per man increased 29 per cent in oil production, 40 per cent in steel mills, 21 per cent in automobiles, 23 per cent in rubber tires, 28 per cent in cigars and cigarettes, and 14 per cent in bituminous coal mining.

Unless something no one can now foresee happens to absorb millions of workers, this problem holds the sprouting seeds of future political issues, future economic progress, future depressions and the future, if any, of national economic planning.

D.A.R. Chapter to Mark Constitution Day September 17

Program Will Be Given at Chapter House; Regent to Visit Illinois

D. A. R. chapters in this district and state will observe Constitution Day this month when there will be a nation wide celebration on September 17. Every autumn since 1890 the organization has grasped this opportunity to impress upon the American people the need for study and understanding of the nation's most important document.

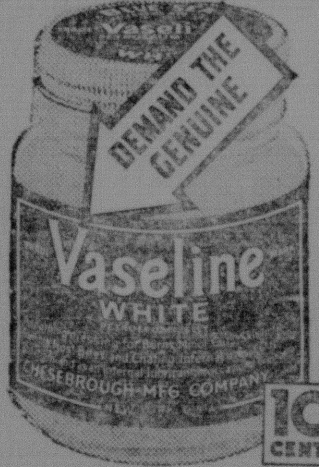

The Rev. James Caldwell chapter of this city will celebrate this day later at the regular meeting of the society. Plans for this meeting are not completed, but a special program observing this day will be given.

Mrs. William A. Becker, of Washington D. C. and Summit, N. J., is coming to the Midwest for this occasion in Chicago. She will be in Illinois on Tuesday, for the first time since she took the national regency of the Daughters of the Revolution.

Mrs. Julian G. Goodhue, former state regent of the Illinois D. A. R. and present historian general, says that there is a sad neglect today of study and understanding of the Constitution. After all it takes only 20 minutes to read.

An open forum following Mrs. Becker's address will define the Daughters' emphasis upon the Constitution. "They believe in providing for national defense as a peace measure. They do not believe in a militaristic government. Beyond its patriotic program the 'mother element' in the work of the Daughters of the Revolution is significant. It maintains a national revolving fund of $355,000 for student loans. It has founded and maintains two schools in the southern moun-

She visited many cities and places of interest, giving special study to the school for the deaf in Tokio, meeting a number of teachers. Miss DeMotte, a member of the faculty of the Illinois School for the Deaf, was favorably impressed with the fine work and equipment, all being modern and up-to-date. Many of the schools in other parts were closed for a vacation period but she interviewed the superintendent of the Kyoto school, which is also a highly developed school for the deaf. Miss DeMotte landed in San Francisco September 4, arriving in this city Saturday evening.

John F. Downing is Summoned by Death In New York State

Prominent Financier Was Born at Virginia and Attended I.C. Here

Funeral services were held Saturday in Quogue, Long Island, for John Franklin Downing, 80, who became one of the nation's best known financiers during the half century after he graduated from college in Jacksonville.

Born in Cass county, schooled in Illinois college, and his wife being a Jacksonville girl, Mr. Downing always had interests in this community. He was born at Virginia Aug. 24, 1855 and was reared on a farm where at an early age he learned the meaning of hard work and frugality.

Mr. Downing, during his active business life in Kansas City, was chairman of the board of the New England National Bank and Trust company, taking the chairmanship in 1925. He retired after the reorganization of the Fidelity National Bank and Trust company into the Union National bank in 1933.

Prior to leaving Cass county, Mr. Downing attended school in Virginia and Illinois college in Jacksonville.

After his graduation he became a clerk in a Virginia bank. Immediately after his marriage to Miss Martha Blatchford Collins in Jacksonville in 1880 he went to Kansas City, accepting a job as bookkeeper for the Kansas City Armour bank. In 1882, when Kansas City was in the midst of a feverish real estate boom, Mr. Downing resigned from the bank and went into the real estate business. He prospered and was one of the few Kansas Cityans to survive the panic of 1893.

When business conditions stabilized, Mr. Downing conceived the idea of establishing a trust company in Kansas City. With H. O. Armour he formed the New England Safe Deposit company in 1895, and in 1899 this company was nationalized, becoming the New England National bank.

In 1898 Mr. Downing's first wife died and he later married Jessie Emma Burnham, whose father was head of a large Kansas City dry goods firm.

Surviving are his second wife, a son, Blatchford Downing, a Kansas City attorney; a daughter, Mrs. George L. Artamonoff of St. Louis; a sister, Mrs. Charles W. Crews of Pueblo, Colo., and a granddaughter.

Willie Barber Captures Park Open Golf Title By 2-Stroke Margin Over Brother Jerome

Willie Barber, who until a week ago has been the silent partner of the firm of Barber and Barber, golf rulers of the Jacksonville links, smashed through a soggy fairway Sunday afternoon to win the Nichols Park Open championship by two strokes, defeating his brother who placed second in the annual tournament that only twelve golfers out of a starting field of 20 finished.

The rainstorm that broke over the course shortly after dinner almost whipped the youngster who has been recovering from an operation during the early summer months, but two rounds of 37, while his brother was able to get but one stroke better than the champion's record. Going into the last 36 holes with a four stroke lead, Willie saw one stroke of that margin wilt away during the morning, but breathed easier when it was all over and he was still two strokes to the good.

Eight strokes back of the first two finishers was James Buckley, the "fore-gotten man" of the tournament who had to play with two different sets of golfers when his scheduled opponents for the foursome failed to appear. Floyd Craft, match play champion, was only ten strokes back of the champion, turning in a 290 total, and a par equalling round before the sod became soaked. The last member of

There isn't much use talking about it—because it seems that the Barber family is destined to rule the local golfing circles when it comes to medal play, for some time.

What riddles them a bit, although there is no malice, is the fact that Floyd Craft can go on year after year winning the match play cups. Anyway, these three boys play about best games of golf Jacksonville has seen for a long time.

Jerome was quite pleased yesterday when he found out that Fred Haas, the boy who won the National Junior tournament and eliminated Jerome on the way, won his first round match from a Philadelphia golfer 6 up 5.

Haas and Rufus King, the latter the Grand American trap-shoot title holder of about five years ago, had a lot of folks pulling for them. They were the two "kids" of the tournament.

Night softball, which made its bow here this year, will go on at least another month unless cold weather forces a shut-down. This is the final week for games in the first half, but the teams will be divided up into new groupings and turned loose on another series.

Carthage College, which gets Tony Capodice, of the Trinity team at Bloomington, will be the first of the Little 19 schools to open football games. They play at Burlington (Ia.) Sept. 18, at night. It's a nonconference game against a junior college.

Ira D. Fanning, formerly football and basketball coach at Virgo high school, has retired from the coaching business. He and his family have taken up residence in Waverly, where he is going to superintend some farming activities on land near Waverly.

Illinois Wesleyan will be the second of the Little 19 teams to swing into action. The Titans play at Duquesne U. Pittsburgh, Sept. 20, and McKendree gets into action the next day, meeting the Scott Field aviators.

Western Teachers are a bit glum following the receipt of a report that Ray Stuckwick has transferred the scene of his activity from the Macdonald campus to Rutgers University. Stuckwick was hailed by Western partisans as the best center in the Little 19, an argument that Illinois College followers were ready to dispute.

Pekin high is getting a taste of some of the trouble that beset Jacksonville high a few years ago. Reports from there indicate that the Celestials will have the worst football team in history, due to an almost complete lack of material.

"Frenchy" Haussler has back only three letters from last year's team, and observers claim that the rest of the material is far below the Big Twelve standard.

Burgess Whitehead, who supplanted Frank Frisch at second base for the Cardinals, has a younger brother in the St. Louis organization and on his way up. . . . Lewis Whitehead is an outfielder with Bloomington in the Three-Eye League. . . . The University of South California will have 15 letter men back for its football squad this fall. . . . The fair ones turn out 10,000 strong on ladies' day at Fenway park, Boston. . . . The veteran Earl Combs has been replaced by Jesse Hill in left field for the harassed New York Yankees.

It is said that Al Simmons wears his baseball pants legs down below his knees so far to conceal a pair of bowlegs. . . . American golf professionals who journeyed to Australia last winter will be visited by a team of six from the land down under this year. . . . Reports come more are circulating that Jimmy Fox won't be in Athletic livery next season. . . . He's going to the Red Sox, who ones say, Zeke Bonura, White Sox first starter, is some shakes as a duck hunter. . . . Snipe Hansen, Phillies pitcher, got his nickname from falling for the ancient snipe hunt game when training with the Cubs at Catalina Island some years ago. . . . Cal Hubbard, giant lineman, will play with the Green Bay Packers again next fall after a year's absence while he coached at Texas A. and M. . . . Hubbard is an umpire in the International League.

There is a demand for high school coaches. Strange as that statement may sound, we have it from Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter that there are places for graduates from liberal arts colleges literally going begging.

Since July, the college placement bureau hasn't had an Illinois College graduate out of a coaching job. Several calls have come in since that time requesting the names of persons whom the college would recommend.

Van Meter particularly has been pressed to find some boys to fill these positions. Acquaintances he has made during his years in the coaching business call him frequently to find out if he knows of any boys who would take coaching jobs, and whom he can recommend. Van said the other day that he hasn't been able to recommend anyone for more than two months.

Talking over the coming football season, Van Meter said he wasn't banking much on this year's freshman

Tennis Games Are Halted By Rain

The Jacksonville Tennis Club team kept their season's string of victories unbroken Sunday when they went to Peoria and were fanned out. The players, leaving town about 9:00 o'clock ran into a drizzle at Havana which continued in various degrees of violence throughout the day. The local racketeers left with the understanding that a telegram would reach them before nine if the Peoria courts were not playable. Upon arriving at that city, however, it was discovered that the man appointed to do the telegraphing had overslept until then, thus causing the Jacksonville group to make the needless trip.

As this was to be the last scheduled match of the season, the final record of the team stands at five wins and no losses. Two victories were scored over the strong Quincy aggregation and two were registered in matches against the Hannibal team. The remaining one came in a meet with Beardstown. This record has never been equaled by former Jacksonville Tennis club teams.

The regular personnel of the team has been Bob Hamm, city champion; Elmer Lukeman, who has held the city title twice; Jack Moriarty and Kenneth Chenoweth, two top ranking players of the Illinois College team; Dave Lander and Bill Clark. Maynard Weber also participated in two of the matches.

New York, Sept. 9.—(AP)—With Walter Brown pitching shutout ball for seven innings and Jack Saltzger and George Selkirk doing some opportunistic hitting, the New York Yankees turned back Cleveland 5 to 3 today to secure their third straight victory over the Indians.

After holding the Indians scoreless and to five hits for seven innings, Brown faltered a bit at the finish and had to be relieved by Johnny Murphy in the ninth with two men on the bases and two out. Saltzger connected with four hits for a perfect day at bat and drove in three runs, one with a double and two with a homer. Selkirk sent the other two across the plate, one with a circuit drive.

Defending Champion Plays Par Golf For 17 Holes To Defeat 19 Year Old Youth

By Alan Gould Associated Press Sports Editor

Cleveland, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A Texas youth who once gained national fame by whipping the country's best trap shooters in the Grand American Handicap came dazzling close today to conquering the world's foremost amateur golfer with a double-barrel blast of super shot making in the first round of the United States amateur golf championship.

Black-haired, handsome Rufus King of Wichita Falls, Tex., who captured five years ago the blue ribbon of American amateur trap shooting at the age of 14 and made his debut in national golfing competition today at 19, yielded finally to the more potent weapons of William Lawson Little Jr. of San Francisco, but not before giving the defending titleholder a terrific jolt and a gallery of 2,500 spectators the biggest thrill of the open-ing day's play.

Little, playing par golf for the 17 holes of the match, emerged the winner by 3 and 1. Under the most severe pressure, with a gallery yelling wildly for a youth essaying the "giant killing" role, the champion proved his class beyond a doubt.

It was his 24th consecutive victory in two years of national amateur championship play, at home and abroad, and the outcome didn't shorten the odds favoring his triumph over the heavily-wooded country club course.

The Californian bumped into an inspired opponent who shot four successive birdies at him, starting with the second hole and posted five birdies altogether in an out going 35, three under par. Yet Little had the courage as well as the resources to draw up to even terms as they reached the turn and soon took command of the match on the home stretch.

King was three up after the first five holes. Up to that point, the Texan was "hot" with every club in his bag. King started 4-4-3-2 against Little's 4-4-3-4-3. The champion was playing par golf and was three down as King hailed the second in birdies, then dropped winning putts of 3 to 15 feet on the next three holes.

Finally Little turned the tide at the sixth, where King was bunkered and lost the hole. The champion sank a 12-footer for a birdie three and won the seventh. They halved the eighth with birdie fours but Little's three won the ninth, where King was trapped and beginning to get the "jitters."

They halved the first two holes of the incoming route, but Little took the lead for the first time with a spectacular birdie on the 888-yard 12th, longest and toughest on the course. Here the champion, disdaining safety in first tactics, went for the green with his brassie second.

He missed and caught a trap but came out within three feet of the cup to get his four. King's control went to pieces on the 13th, where he three-putted from only seen feet with a fine chance to square the match again. They halved the short 14th and King's six foot putt won the 15th.

Again Little's ability to carry tremendous distances came to his aid and he got his birdie four on the 16th, yard 16th to become double two. The match ended on the 17th, where King dove into the woods.

The outcome demonstrated not only Little's superb fighting powers but convinced onlookers that he has the course—and perhaps the field—at his mercy. He had birdies today on all four long holes.

The champion's second round opponent tomorrow is William Lain, 27-year-old Chicago undertaker, but he refused to view the outlook with any superstition on that account. Lain, who beat Bayard Mitchell from the Pine Valley, N. J. club, 3 and 2, is the champion of the Beverly Club, Chicago, and tied with Jack Westland for the lead in the distance qualifying test.

Except for the defeat of Francis Ouimet of Boston, veteran former champion, the favorites came through handsomely in a convincing demonstration of form.

Cubs Take Twin Bill From Braves And Move Within One Game of First Place

Navy to Continue Wide Open Attack

(This is one of a series on the outlook of major football teams by Richard H. Elliott, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Annapolis, Md.—(AP)—The deceptive, open style of play that brought the Naval Academy astonishing success last season will be used by the sailors again this fall with a few added touches, if plans of the coaches work out.

Some adjustments probably will be necessary because of the loss by graduation of the sensational Buzz Borries and Bill Clark, backs, around whom the Navy 1934 attack hinged.

"Our strategy will depend upon the material available," said Lieut. Thomas J. Hamilton, head coach, as his stalwarts launched upon the training grind. "We were successful last year with open play and we may bring in something new this season."

"We all believed in the forward pass and also were successful with laterals last year. If the personnel is available you can look for more of it this season."

Hamilton and his aides have but four veterans around whom to build the middle eleven. There are, however, some recruits from last season's unbeaten Freshman outfit who promise a lot.

Hamilton is counting on traditional scrappy spirit of the sailors to compensate for the loss of 22 men from last year's "A" squad, including 13 lettermen. He labelled the 1935 schedule "as tough as any in the country."

"But we are not without hope," he said.

Tigers Wallop Senators 5-4

Washington, Sept. 9.—(AP)—Overcoming an early Washington lead, the Detroit Tigers held to their 81 game lead over New York today by rallying in the late innings to defeat the Senators five to four in a game that was halted after seven innings on account of rain and darkness.

Manager Bucky Harris of the Nationals attempted to have the game halted in the last half of the seventh because of the darkness of a black cloud overhead, but Umpire Summers allowed it to continue only to call off activities while the Senators were in their half of the eighth inning.

The Tigers put across the winning run in the seventh when Fox singled and scored on Owen's double.

Early Morning Fire Damages W. Rolston Store at Franklin

Blaze Starts Between Roof and Ceiling; Waverly Firemen Called

Franklin—Fire threatened for a time Monday morning to destroy the grocery store operated by Wayne Rolston on the northeast corner of the square. The blaze was discovered about 1:10 a.m. by some young men from Waverly who were passing thru town. They spread the alarm and Franklin firemen and citizens responded. The Waverly fire apparatus was also called to the scene.

The blaze originated at the rear of the store in a two-foot space between the metal ceiling and roof. Firemen were able to keep the fire from spreading to any great extent and to extinguish it in a short time. It is believed the fire originated from defective wiring.

The roof of the structure was considerably damaged. The grocery stock also suffered from smoke. The contents of the McNeely restaurant, which occupies the same building were removed to the street, but that section of the building was not greatly damaged. It was feared for a time that the entire building would be destroyed.

The building is owned by J. O. Rolston, father of the store proprietor. The loss is covered by insurance.

Geo. E. Kapes, State Employee Here for Nine Years, Expires

Former Springfield Man Who Served as Bill Clerk in House, Succumbs

George E. Kapes, for many years a bill clerk in the House of Representatives at Springfield, and for the last nine years an employee of the Jacksonville State hospital, died here at 7:20 o'clock Sunday morning after a brief illness.

Mr. Kapes enjoyed a large acquaintance among state legislators and other officials. Since coming to the state hospital he had served as a night attendant.

He possessed a remarkably pleasing personality, and his smile was his trademark in life. "Look pleasant and you will find it easier to get along with people," Mr. Kapes sometimes told his friends when they discussed his own ability to make friends.

Kapes was a resident of Springfield for many years. The appointment as attendant at the state hospital was first given him by Len Small when the latter was governor.

Serving two years under the Small administration, Kapes was reappointed when Louis L. Emmerson became governor. When Henry Horner was elected governor he retained Kapes in his old position.

For many years Kapes was a bill clerk in the house of representatives. He served in the same capacity at the session of the constitutional convention.

Kapes liked the political game. During more than a quarter of a century he knew the great and near-great in political life.

Mr. Kapes was born at Elgin, Ill., July 15, 1889. He was educated in the Elgin schools, graduating from the Elgin Academy.

Surviving are one granddaughter, Mrs. Nevada Pfafflin; a niece and nephew, Jennie and Jerome Liek, all of Elgin.

The remains were prepared for burial at the John M. Carroll funeral parlors. Funeral services were conducted at three o'clock Monday afternoon at the graves in Diamond Grove cemetery, with Rev. Harry Lothian, pastor of Northminster Church officiating. Miss Cecil Manning, sang two solos.

The flowers were cared for by friends.

The bearers were: Franklin Virgin, Robert Ryan, Hayden Walker, Fred Wharton, Michael Heffernan and Carroll Hughes.

State Fails to Ask Education Projects Because of Conflict

Dispute Over Right to Name Teachers to Carry Out Work Given as Cause

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Because of a conflict over jurisdiction, the office of John A. Wieland, State Superintendent of Public Education, filed no application for WPA funds to be used for emergency education in Illinois.

E. L. Coberly, Superintendent of Adult Education in Wieland's office, today said a program was drafted but held up because the WPA insisted that it appoint the men who would direct the work.

"If this office sponsors a program, it will be responsible for results," Coberly said. "WPA officials insisted that they name the state director and those to direct the activities in every county."

"Under this plan we would have no jurisdiction. We declined to sponsor any program unless we were allowed to name educators to carry it out."

The WPA deadline for applications passed Saturday. Wieland's subordinates said there was an outside chance that the filing of the program might still be permitted.

Last week the office of Robert J. Dunham, State PWA director, announced that $907,000 was allotted to Illinois for emergency education. Coberly said the program was not sponsored by Wieland and that no information on it is available here.

Diplomatic circles regarded a "good will" Sunday visit of Bernardo Di Altolico, Italian ambassador to Berlin, to Reichsfuehrer Hitler as a warning round of grape-shot across the bow of Premier Laval's cherished anti-German front.

The BLUE DOOR

Rachel Mack 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

RUTH WOODSON, 19 years old, an orphan, leaves Brooklyn for the mid-west by bus, seeking a job. Unable to pay her fare, she is put off the bus in a small town just as a storm is breaking. She seeks shelter at an old stone house with a blue door and faint traces of a housewife's hand.

PENNY, the old housekeeper, opens the door. Ruth is carried upstairs by the old woman, assisted by JOHN McNEILL, a young man from next door. The old woman mistakes Ruth for ELAINE CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the house. Ruth does not deny it. She resolves to quit the old house next day and becomes interested in John.

Elaine, meanwhile, is at Gray-castle College, vowing in a sorority meeting to win the love of her first sweetheart, John McNeill. Though "almost engaged" to an elderly lawyer, and to a famous oratorical leader, and to a wealthy TERRY VAN HARRING, she is still in love with John.

Penny tells Ruth that the next day will be her 75th birthday and pleads with her to make her two-weeks' visit. Ruth recklessly consents.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI
WHEN Ruth awakened on her second morning in the quiet old Hunter mansion she did so without any feeling of guilt or remorse. Having made her decision to remain, she resolved to enjoy her stay to the fullest. The stage was set for a fortnight which she had every reason to believe would be the happiest of her life.

True, there was the possibility of Elaine Chalmers appearing on the scene, but this was remote. The girl had, of course, written Penny that she was arriving "in a few weeks." Penny's eyes had hardly deceived her on that point. "I'll be gone," thought Ruth, "with a week or two to spare. I'll have had my little masquerade, and no harm done--unless maybe to my own heart! I'll leave a note behind me, asking forgiveness. And that's all there'll be to that."

That other cloud on the horizon, Penny's "queerness," Ruth dismissed also. Aside from the matter of the blue door, Penny seemed normal and reliable. Ruth had enough natural curiosity to wonder about the old woman's strange regard for her freshly-painted door, but intuition warned her not to pry. Good guests never turn detective.

Someone was whispering on the lawn outside. Ruth hoped she knew who it was.

Wrapping herself in the bathrobe that Penny had lent her, she ventured across the room and peeped out. John McNeill was there, looking up at her window.

He called out ceremoniously: "The McNeill heirs greet the Chalmers-Hunter-Deal heiress and invites her for a buggy ride at 5 this evening."

Ruth clutched the clumsy robe at her neck and drew nearer. "Do they still use buggies in Ohio?" she asked soberly.

"Eight-cylinder ones, mostly. Willst go, fair maid? Or wouldst choose to languish in thy ratty tower?"

Ruth called, "I'll go, of course. Idiot. But make it a country road. I don't feel like meeting people. I'm here for a rest."

"So that's what you're here for," John McNeill replied cryptically.

Someone was whispering on the lawn outside. Ruth hoped she knew who it was.

Wrapping herself in the bathrobe that Penny had lent her, she ventured across the room and peeped out. John McNeill was there, looking up at her window

ENROLLMENT AT HIGH SCHOOL IS INCREASED

Expect Students In Local School To Number More Than 1,000

Predictions that enrollment in Jacksonville High school would go well above one thousand students by the end of the first week of school were made Monday morning by Principal J. C. Mutch, as a heavy registration of students was reported for the first day of the term. The first day's enrollment showed a decided increase over the number at the same time last year.

Yesterday the high school enrollment reached 976 and students were continuing to register in a steady stream. The class enrollments reported at that time were: Seniors, 236; Juniors, 221; Sophomores, 232; and Freshmen, 295.

At the first high school assembly Monday morning the auditorium was filled. After opening statements by school officials, the students were sent to their home rooms to get acquainted with their teachers. The seven class periods of the day were run thru before noon and students were given their book lists.

During the afternoon locker assignments were made and books and supplies collected by students. Classes will be on full schedule today and regular assignments of lessons will be in order.

In the Junior High School 436 pupils enrolled Monday morning. The number was expected to increase during the first week and to show a real gain over the enrollment at the same time last year.

Grade Schools Report
In the four grade schools of the city, 1,237 children were enrolled the first day. The two districts which have new buildings showed the largest enrollments. The list is as follows:

Franklin 292
Lafayette 268
Jefferson 353
Washington 314

In the Lafayette school a registration of 141 boys and 127 girls was reported.

The school calendar for the coming year is somewhat changed from the calendar of previous year. This year school is starting a week later, on Sept. 9, and will close a little later, on Wednesday, June 3. The Christmas holiday is longer this year, because Christmas comes on Wednesday and New Year's Day falls on the following Wednesday. The Christmas vacation will extend from Dec. 20, 1935, to Jan. 6, 1936. There will also be a vacation of Thanksgiving and Good Friday. The success of this calendar of starting school later and of a longer Christmas vacation will determine the schedule of school season for next year.

Council Discusses Plant Allocation; To Hold Meet Tonight

In a quandary as to the status of the allocation for a municipal light and power plant for this city, members of the city council at a special meeting last night in the city council chambers deferred action on a resolution which would have named the Caldwell Engineering company of this city as "the engineering representative" of the city with the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, and called an informal meeting of the city council, the citizen's waterworks committee, and the citizen's project committee for tonight, at which time some action will be taken towards appointing a representative of the council to go to Washington in an effort to trace the allocation.

Revelation of a telegram, from James Hamilton Lewis, senator from this state, to Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn, threw the council into a quandary as to the exact status of the grant of $189,000 and loan of $231,000 for the purpose of constructing a municipal light plant and distribution system. The telegram stated:

"Telegram (notifying rescinding of action of July 1) received. Illinois application eight aught two six for electric light and power plant approved by president Aug. 20 cancelled by PWA Aug. 30. Re-instated Sept. 3 and now being considered. Outright grant of $189,000 National Emergency Council four two five one which was allotted September fourth was cancelled September sixth. New number for original application is NEC four two five one."

"James Hamilton Lewis."

Check-mated on their first effort to name some one to investigate the status of the loan and grant, because of the fear of running into engineering and legal complications, the council last night authorized the city attorney to invite Alexander Van Praag, a member of the firm of Warren and Van Praag, to attend an informal meeting with the council and citizen's committee tonight in an effort to determine whether the city has a valid contract with the Decatur firm, and if it has, on what grounds the contract is based upon.

City Attorney C. R. Grun, who was asked as to the advisability of passing a resolution designating the Caldwell Engineering company of this city as a "representative" of this city on the municipal light plant, told the council that he did not deem it advisable to pass the resolution upon the fact that although he has been unable to find any record of a contract with the Decatur firm, the possibility existed that there might be some correspondence indicating a contract, which could be held as a valid contract. It was upon his suggestion that the Decatur engineer was contacted last night, and an agreement was made to meet with him here tonight. Van Praag will arrive here early tomorrow afternoon and go over the matter with the city attorney, council and citizens' committee, and then leave for a meeting with another board to be held in Ashland.

The Resolution
The resolution, introduced by Alderman W. H. Cocking and later withdrawn when, as he stated, there was reason to believe that there were not sufficient members of the council who were ready to vote, was as follows:

A Resolution authorizing the Caldwell Engineering company to be the Engineering Representative of the City of Jacksonville, Illinois through the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works for a loan and or grant to aid in financing the construction of a Municipal Electric Light and Power Plant, and to furnish such information as the Government may request.

Whereas, the City Council has heretofore authorized the Caldwell Engineering company to be the engineering representative on the possible improvements to the water supply system; and

Whereas, these two improvements are so closely allied and interlocked. Therefore, be it resolved by the Mayor and City Council:

Section 1: That the Caldwell Engineering company be and is hereby authorized to represent the City of Jacksonville on behalf of the said City of Jacksonville, Morgan County, Illinois in its negotiations that the said city may have with the United States of America, for a loan and or grant to aid in financing the construction of a Municipal Electric Light and Power Plant, the application of which has already been made, in conjunction with the construction of an additional water supply system and betterments and additions to the waterworks plant and additions to the water distribution system.

Section 2: That the Caldwell Engineering company is hereby authorized to direct to the city, to the city of Jacksonville, Morgan County, Illinois in its negotiations that the said city may have with the United States of America, for a loan and or grant to aid in financing the construction of a Municipal Electric Light and Power Plant, the application of which has already been made, in conjunction with the construction of an additional water supply system and betterments and additions to the waterworks plant and additions to the water distribution system.

Section 3: That the said Caldwell Engineering company, by such authorization, is not to receive any additional compensation for said negotiations with the Federal Government, in addition to the compensation that may be allowed under its original employment on the Waterworks job.

Foreman May Act
Probability that a similar resolution, drawn to give Attorney Orville N. Foreman the right to act as the attorney for the city in matters pertaining to the light plant also developed during the meeting. There was a strong sentiment to draw up the resolution giving him the authority, but action was deferred until tonight's meeting.

Alderman George Brown led the fight to postpone consideration of the resolution designating the Caldwell company as the engineers, basing his fight on the fact that the city attorney was unable to find whether a contract existed between the city and

TO MASSACHUSETTS
Miss Ruth Walton will leave this morning for South Hadley, Mass., where she will enter Mount Holyoke college. She will be a junior this year.

the firm of Warren and Van Praag, that it was unethical to send a competitive engineer to Washington in support of another engineer's project, and that he desired a municipal plant to such an extent that he didn't want to take any action until he was certain of the ground upon which he was voting. After the resolution was presented and moved for adoption, Aldermen Green, Early and Denny expressed themselves as being in favor of getting more information about the city's business relations with the Decatur engineers.

Attorney Foreman, who was present as a citizen interested in securing the municipal plant for the city, told the council that he was unable to state the exact nature of the relations with the Decatur engineering firm, but doubted that any contract existed. There was an understanding with the council during the Wainright administration as to the engineering fees for the work, but as far as he could remember there had been no action of the council retaining Warren and Van Praag further than the preparation of the application.

H. L. Caldwell, head of the engineering company which bears his name, stated that he intended to leave for Chicago this morning to further the water-works project if possible, and that in view of the interlocking plans, he had been advised by PWA officials in Chicago that it might be necessary for the city to name one man to act as head engineer on the project. He pointed out that in view of the fact that he was going to make the trip to Chicago and then follow the project to Washington if possible, he would be glad to undertake the additional work of being the "representative" of the city without cost.

Foreman, in relating conversations he had in Chicago Saturday when he was there, said that there was some fear that there would be an engineer's scrap here, and that if such was the case, the situation would become even more tangled than it is at present. He said he believed that the Caldwell company would be glad to give its engineering services without a resolution, and urged the council to present a united front, regardless of what action it finally took. He also stated that he did not come to the council in an effort to get the legal work in connection with the project, but that he was interested, vitally interested, in obtaining the plant if it was possible.
